Chapter 354: The Divine Mission - Gabriel and Michael

Sung Jin-Woo, now a being whose very existence transcended the realms, knew that his ascension to the True Absolute One Domain did not mean he could turn a blind eye to the workings of the Absolute Realm Universe. Despite his vast evolution and ultimate power, the vastness of the multiverse demanded constant vigilance, and as the supreme ruler, it was his responsibility to maintain the harmony and balance of all realms under his dominion.

Thus, he decided to assign Gabriel and Michael, two of his most powerful and loyal archangels, to oversee the Absolute Realm Universe. Their duties would span not only communication with the Twelve Divine Beings, but also the protection and administration of the realms within this universe.

Gabriel’s Mission

Gabriel, with his immense might and 600 wings, was tasked with the leadership of the Divine Armada, the elimination of threats from outer entities, and maintaining communication with the Twelve Divine Beings (now reduced to eleven, as Sung Jin-Woo had ascended to the next plane of existence). His role would require him to lead the forces of the Divine Triad, directing the Divine Armada across countless realms, ensuring that any forces that threatened the stability of the multiverse would be swiftly dealt with.

Under Gabriel’s command, the Divine Armada would be more than capable of handling any large-scale threats. His wings, a symbol of both wisdom and strength, would guide the fleet with precision and might. He was the strategist, the warrior, and the commander of divine legions—his very presence would command respect across every realm.

Gabriel’s leadership was not just about military might. His role also included coordinating the efforts of the Twelve Divine Beings and ensuring that their duties aligned with the greater purpose of the Divine Triad. With his wisdom and battle experience, Gabriel would oversee all operations, ensuring that any potential conflicts in the realms were dealt with before they could escalate.

Michael’s Mission

In contrast to Gabriel’s role in war and leadership, Michael was tasked with a more peaceful, yet equally important responsibility: the distribution of blessings. He would travel across the realms, bestowing divine favor upon all of Sung Jin-Woo’s followers, worshippers, and priests. The blessings would provide strength, longevity, and protection to all those who dedicated themselves to the True Absolute One, ensuring that Sung Jin-Woo’s influence and divine presence were felt in every corner of the multiverse.

Michael’s 600 wings would carry him across all the realms, his presence a beacon of hope and divine favor. He would bless the divine warriors, the faithful, and all beings who recognized the divine truth of the Divine Triad. His role was critical in maintaining the unity and loyalty of the Divine Triad’s followers. Through his blessings, Michael would ensure that those who served Sung Jin-Woo would be able to carry out their duties with enhanced power, immortality, and strength.

The Creation of the Celestial Host

To aid Gabriel and Michael in their divine missions, Sung Jin-Woo summoned forth an uncountable number of celestial beings from the very light itself—centillions of angels. These angels, ranging from those with two to four wings, were created with the sole purpose of assisting the archangels in their duties.

These angels were no ordinary beings. Each one possessed immense divine energy, and although their individual power was not as great as the archangels, their collective strength was beyond measure. They would serve as messengers, warriors, and helpers, ensuring the smooth execution of all tasks given to Gabriel and Michael.

Gabriel's Angels would serve as his messengers and battle aides. They would accompany him in his missions to eliminate threats from outer entities, ensure the peace of the realms, and provide support for the Divine Armada. Their wings, numbering anywhere from two to four, gave them immense speed and agility, allowing them to be deployed across vast distances at a moment's notice.

Michael's Angels, on the other hand, would assist him in spreading blessings to the faithful across the realms. These angels would help deliver Michael’s divine favor, ensuring that every follower and priest of the Divine Triad received their due blessing. Whether it be the extension of life, the enhancement of strength, or the protection from threats, these angels would carry out their roles with devotion and precision.

The New Order

With Gabriel and Michael assigned to their new duties, and the celestial host of angels created to assist them, Sung Jin-Woo's influence over the Absolute Realm Universe grew ever stronger. The balance between creation and destruction, peace and war, was firmly in place under his divine reign.

His dominion was not just a realm of might and power; it was one of organization, order, and purpose. The Divine Triad had set the foundations for a new age, one where the realms could flourish without the constant threat of chaos, and where the forces of evil would find no purchase.

Yet, the multiverse was vast, and Sung Jin-Woo knew that even with Gabriel, Michael, and their angels, the duty to protect and guide the realms was never-ending. But for now, he was at peace, confident in the knowledge that the True Absolute One Domain was under the protection of the Divine Triad, and that their mission would carry on through the ages.
